Keeping Families Close™

Sophia: 76 nights; Lola: 96 nights; Peyton: 117 nights. For families living in Cincinnati's Ronald McDonald House, each night in a room at our House means they can focus on what matters most: their critically ill child. Moms can borrow a book from our library and rock their child to sleep. Dads can walk the halls with their babies to ease their pain. Kids like Sophia, Lola and Peyton can rest in a bed without interruptions from hospital staff.

With your support, we are here for them when they need us most. By sponsoring a room in our House, you can help make life a little less scary for sick children by giving them space to recover and gain their strength with their family by their side.

“The House is a place that takes worry and stress off of our plates when there are other things to focus on, be it food, shelter, or finances. Our room is bright, and we have meals at a table instead of sitting in a hospital bed. We are all sleeping better here without the constant interruptions of hospital nurses and doctors. We don't know where we would be without the House.”

Adopting a room means giving critically ill children a place to call “home” with all of the people and items they need:

- Comfortable, private bedrooms
- Healthy, home-cooked meals
- Close proximity to their hospitalized child or medical team
- Indoor and outdoor play areas, laundry facilities, WiFi, arts and crafts room, exercise room, library and many other spaces to make memories with their loved ones
- Financial relief to help them focus on what is most important – their critically ill child

Recognizing your generosity

We honor our Adopt a Room donors in special ways, including:

- A plaque in your honor on the door of your room.
- Recognition in our annual report.
- An invitation to our Donor Appreciation Lunch that takes place in the heart of our House: our kitchen.

“When we first arrived in Cincinnati, I lived in the hospital with my son. When I checked in to the House, it was like a load of stress and worry was lifted off my shoulders. We now have a place we can call home!”

Adopting a room at Cincinnati's Ronald McDonald House means providing a home for critically ill children and their families to be together. Each room offers a quiet respite just steps away from the hospital, a soft bed to get a good night's sleep and a clean environment that helps keep sick children safe.

Other rooms in our House offer families more space to be together, such as a kitchen where home-cooked meals are prepared, a library to borrow a book and play areas and craft rooms that are sure to bring smiles to children of all ages. Thanks to your support, our families will have a room to call their own right next door to their medical team.
