"When we walk through those doors, it feels like coming home. We see families in the kitchen, children smiling, hear language from all over the world and open the doors to a very clean and comfortable room. To the donors of this House, if you ever wondered if what you do is making a difference, let me assure you it has been life changing for us."

"I have tremendous appreciation for all the groups of volunteers who have come in to prepare us meals. The food has always been delicious, and I've appreciated the variety and all the healthy options. I have definitely eaten better here than I ever would have at home. It's also clear from the comradery of the groups that they enjoy the experience of coming to the House as well, and that's just a nice thing to witness over and over again."
